Council
meeting

Fighting the good fight, based on verifiable information/intelligence gathering, and just good common sense is difficult.....especially on an uneven battlefield. And, sadly, very few battles are won based on ^{JUST} facts. Massaging the numbers, bending the map, opinions used as facts, simply burying the facts in reams of information, deflection or hiding information, disinformation and scare tactics(aka E-coli)..... they CAN all add up to victory...."The Art of War"look at history. Pleading a cause through a ^{Read} 2-3 ^{minutes} widow is hard.....send to city Monday my complete paper on this issue. ^{ANYONE CAN} Access me through Shoemaking.com, glad to send you a copy...big file

Ted Hall, Julie, Carol, John, Jim, Terry and a host of others..... and an overwhelming majority of the 86 citizens and homeowners along the canal can sense a NIGHTMARE in the air I sure do. "Well they're only

eb

1% of Ashland's households" it's that greater good argument... that rhetoric from PW...^{DISTURBS ME} ~~it is chilling~~. We're responsible, fact based canaries and we're chirping as loud as we can. Mature, fact based adults spot boondoggles!!!!

Have you walked the canal? Council,...If you have read Plato, you might sense this a moment to transcend, make the hard decision, and become modern day Philosopher Kings? Remember Occum's Razor [★] The middle way I suggest: Alternative #3a, rehabilitate the pipes, great technology, BUT fix the open areas with FRS, a minimally invasive innovative technology with over a century of proven success. Alternative #3, in the city's version, (liner and pored forms) is almost as invasive as Alternatives 1 & 2. FRS is taylor made for this type of application, being stronger, lasting longer, and, with an ease of application, and considerable savings for all of us. Nothing gets ripped up, including lives....4months fixed, minimally invasive, money saved, fewer trees wacked ,aesthetics and value respected and preserved VS instead a 2 year invasive nightmare/ trainwreck. I Can you see it..... can you?

Gettysberg: A little History

Third Day,

*Lee exhausted, sick, desperate, without info/intelligence from General Jeb Stuart, Stonewall has recently passed,... conceives of Pickett's charge.

IT BEN

*Longstreet who's tactics are still taught at military colleges. Tells Lee.... NO 15,000 MEN WHO EVER LIVED CAN TAKE THAT POSITION. Lee prevails and Sends 15,000 men 3/4 of a mile across an open field into Cannister firing artillery saying "take that hill"

*10,000 are shredded 7,000 fatally.

*A MOANING,HOWLING WAGON TRAIN 55 MILES LONG leaves GETTYBERG in the week that follows

*As the survivors return from the charge Lee says . "It was all my fault"

It was the last time he said That.

Until his death, he blamed failure on everyone else, especially Longstreet..... ^{HIS} ~~THE~~ CANARY IN THE MINE
