ASHLAND WOOLEN MILLS
 This mill is the largest in the West, and is situated on the banks of the Rogue River. It is owned and operated by the Ashland Woolen Mills Company, which was organized in 1872. The mill is a fine example of modern woolen manufacturing, and is capable of producing 10,000,000 yards of cloth annually. It is a great source of employment for the community, and is one of the principal industries of the city.
