Community Conversations

"Giving Jackson County a voice to speak up on topics that matter"

You have a take. We know you do.

And we want you to share your thoughts,
your ideas and your solutions

with other members of the Jackson County community.

We are offering an Old Time Town Hall Discussion with the goal of giving people an opportunity to tell their stories, and think about innovative solutions on how various issues are affecting this County. We hope that by participating in conversations like this people will be inspired to seek out additional information and empowered to become more involved in public service.

Community Conversations is a project designed to encourage public engagement by providing an comfortable, respectful, non-partisan, non-confrontational opportunity for members of our community to share their views on important issues.

Please contact us if you would like to come but cannot due to lack of transportation. We are trying to find transportation assistance for the event, but due to insurance costs, etc., this may be impossible. So we are trying, but not promising. Either way the information is important to help illuminate the need.
